Allowable Subject Matter

1. Claims 1-28 are allowed.

Reasons for Allowance

2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The primary reason for the allowance of claims 1-18 and 19-21 is the inclusion of the following limitations: "a memory arrangement adapted to buffer a plurality of programmable commands, the programmable commands indicative of at least one of test-traffic type, pattern and behavior-in-time; state machine circuitry coupled between the memory arrangement, the data-generation circuit and the digital data path, the state machine circuitry adapted to assemble portions of the first data stream into test-traffic wherein at least one of type, pattern and behavior-in-time is selected responsive to the programmable commands, and further adapted to generate test-traffic on the digital data path."

The primary reason for the allowance of claims 22-27 is the inclusion of the following limitations: "storing a plurality of programmable commands, the programmable commands indicative of at least one of test-traffic type, pattern and behavior; assembling portions of the first data stream into test-traffic wherein at least one of type, pattern and behavior-in-time is selected responsive to the programmable commands."

The primary reason for the allowance of claim 28 is the inclusion of the following limitations: "means for storing a plurality of programmable commands, the programmable commands indicative of at least one of test-traffic type, pattern and behavior; means for assembling portions of the first data stream into test-traffic wherein at least one of type, pattern and behavior-in-time is selected responsive to the programmable commands.”

These limitations are listed in above specified groups of claims. No prior art references included any of these limitations and they are seen as being nonobvious. Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled “Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance.”
